Luke 10:1-12: 17-20

At that time the Lord appointed seventy-two others whom he sent ahead of him in pairs to every town and place he intended to visit. He said to them, "The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest. Go on your way; behold, I am sending you like lambs among wolves. Carry no money bag, no sack, no sandals; and greet no one along the way. Into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this household.' If a peaceful person lives there, your peace will rest on him; but if not, it will return to you. Stay in the same house and eat and drink what is offered to you, for the laborer deserves his payment. Do not move about from one house to another. Whatever town you enter and they welcome you, eat what is set before you, cure the sick in it and say to them, 'The kingdom of God is at hand for you.' Whatever town you enter and they do not receive you, go out into the streets and say, 'The dust of your town that clings to our feet, even that we shake off against you.' Yet know this: the kingdom of God is at hand. I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Sodom on that day than for that town."

The seventy-two returned rejoicing, and said, "Lord, even the demons are subject to us because of your name." Jesus said, "I have observed Satan fall like lightning from the sky. Behold, I have given you the power to 'tread upon serpents' and scorpions and upon the full force of the enemy and nothing will harm you. Nevertheless, do not rejoice because the spirits are subject to you, but rejoice because your names are written in heaven."

We CAN change the world

Twenty centuries ago, Jesus summoned 72 committed people and sent them, two by two, to communicate God's love, to bind up wounds, and to be peacemakers in a troubled world. These ordinary people took with them no great plan, no set speech, no "how-to" manual. They brought only their faith, their trust, and their experience of Jesus. Jesus knew they would make mistakes; nevertheless, he involved them in his mission and gave them his authority.

Today, all the baptized need to understand and embrace their call to Jesus' mission and ministry to others. Whatever our niche in life, we are invited to contemplate that mission, to leave behind our baggage, and set out with full hearts to build our Church and help it grow. Armed with faith and a personal experience of Jesus, we can all proclaim with our lives the reign of God.

Through simple acts of caring, we have the ability to change the world. Whether it is by providing a listening ear to the sick or lonely, or companionship to the young or the elderly, we are ministers. When we are helpful, loyal, and constant without seeking personal glory, we respond to the needs around us and build up the Body of Christ. As we are called and respond, so do we also call others to do the same. Let us celebrate this gift with thanksgiving!

~Wanda Conway~

The above story could be referring to the modern day Cursillista. We have also been summoned by Jesus to spread God's love. We have been called to Be a Friend, Make a Friend and Bring a Friend to Christ. How better to do that than to heal wounds, be peacemakers, forgive and forget. Let's not just say we have faith, trust, and a love for Christ, but show it in every action and in every word we speak.

What baggage can you leave behind? What simple act of kindness can you show to someone? How are you going to change the world?
